

Steering Training: Any paddler may learn to steer from any Captain at any time. They will sit in seat 5 only in a single, or in seat 6 of a double with a responsible Captain in the other seat 6 (although the double is not recommended as early training). They will not launch or land. They will only learn steering strokes. The Captain of the canoe sits in seat 6, remains the Captain of the canoe, and retains all responsibility for the safety of the crew and the canoe. No logs are required; no board approval is required.

Note: This is not Captains Training; it is only about teaching a paddler how to direct the canoe while on the water, a skill which is of benefit to all paddlers no matter which seat they occupy.
